B1 Listening

Following directions

Understand spoken directions to a place: turns, landmarks and distances, in the right order.

When someone gives you directions, you need to remember a sequence: where to go first, where to turn, and what you will see. Listen for direction words and landmarks, and note them in order.

Listen for	Examples
Movement	go straight on, go past, cross the road, go up the hill
Turns	take the second left, turn right at the lights
Landmarks	opposite the bank, next to the pharmacy, on the corner
Distance	about 200 metres, it's a five-minute walk

Excuse me, how do I get to the city museum? Oh, it's not far. Go straight down this street until you reach the traffic lights. Turn left at the lights, and then take the second road on the right. That's King Street. Walk past the post office, and the museum is on your left, opposite a small park. It's about a ten-minute walk. If you get lost, just ask anyone near the park.

Draw while you listen. A quick arrow for each turn is faster than writing words, and easier to follow later.

Common mistake. Mixing up the second road on the right and the second right after the lights. Note where the counting starts.

Practice

1. Where does the person want to go?
2. What should they do at the traffic lights?
3. Which road should they take after that?
4. What building do they walk past?
5. Where exactly is the museum?
6. How long is the walk?
