C2 Writing

Style, register and concision

Edit for precision: cut wordiness, control register and vary sentence rhythm.

At C2 level, good writing is about control. Every word should earn its place, and the register should match the reader exactly.

Cut wordiness

Wordy	Concise
due to the fact that	because
in the event that	if
at this point in time	now
make a decision	decide
it is important to note that	(delete it)

Control register

The same idea changes form depending on the reader.

Register	Example
Casual	The plan fell apart pretty fast.
Neutral	The plan failed quickly.
Formal	The initiative proved unsustainable within a short period.

Vary rhythm

Long sentences build an argument. Short ones land it. Alternating the two keeps a reader alert.

Avoid elegant variation. Do not change a key term just to avoid repetition. If you call it the policy, keep calling it the policy.

Practice

1. Make concise: Due to the fact that it was raining, the match was cancelled.
2. Make concise: We need to make a decision at this point in time.
3. Rewrite formally: Sales went through the roof.

1. Because it was raining, the match was cancelled. / The match was rained off.
2. We need to decide now.
3. Sales increased dramatically.
