B2 Grammar

Reported speech

Report statements, questions and requests, and know when the tense moves back.

We use reported speech to tell someone what another person said. With a past reporting verb such as said or asked, the verb in the reported part usually moves one step back in time.

Direct speech	Reported speech
"I'm tired."	She said (that) she was tired.
"We'll call you."	They said they would call me.
"I've finished."	He said he had finished.
"I saw it yesterday."	She said she had seen it the day before.
"I can help."	He said he could help.

Questions

Yes/no questions take if or whether. Wh- questions keep the question word. Both use statement word order, with no do, does or did.

Direct question	Reported question
"Are you ready?"	He asked if I was ready.
"Where do you live?"	She asked where I lived.

Requests and orders

Use ask or tell + person + to + verb. For negatives, put not before to.

Direct	Reported
"Please sit down."	He asked me to sit down.
"Don't be late."	She told us not to be late.

Time and place words

Direct	Reported
now	then, at that time
today / tonight	that day / that night
tomorrow	the next day, the following day
yesterday	the day before, the previous day
here / this	there / that

No backshift needed. If something is still true when you report it, you can keep the original tense: He said the meeting is on Friday (and it still is).

Common mistakes. Do not keep question order: She asked where did I live is wrong; say She asked where I lived. And tell needs a person: He told me he was leaving, but He said he was leaving.

Practice

1. "I'm working from home today," Sara said.
2. "Have you seen my keys?" he asked me.
3. "Where is the station?" the tourist asked.
4. "Don't touch the screen," the teacher told us.
5. "We will finish the report tomorrow," they said.
6. Choose: He (said / told) me that he was leaving.
